

Special Issue

Pre-announcement from Statistics and Its Interface

Statistics and Its Interface (SII) has agreed to devote a special issue to selected papers from the 2009 IMS-China International Conference on Statistics and Probability. SII is an international statistical journal promoting the interface between statistics and other disciplines including, but not limited to, biomedical sciences, geosciences, computer sciences, engineering, and social and behavioral sciences. The journal publishes high-quality articles in broad areas of statistical science, emphasizing substantive problems, sound statistical models and methods, clear and efficient computational algorithms, and insightful discussions of the motivating problems.

All articles in the special issue will be peer-reviewed and the topics must be consistent with the scope of SII.

Professors Tianxi Cai (Harvard University), Harrison Zhou (Yale University), and Ji Zhu (University of Michigan) will be the Guest Editors for this special issue. The window of submission is July 15 - December 15, 2009 (inclusive of both end dates). Manuscript preparation, submission, review, and subscription information is available the SII website:

<http://intlpress.com/SII/>. Questions regarding the special issue should be directed to the guest editors only after July 15, 2009. Preliminary inquiries should be directed to Professor Heping Zhang (heping.zhang@yale.edu), Editor-in-Chief of SII.
